TENTH YEAR.

Entered at the Post Office in Lancaster, Ky., as Second Class Matter.

NUMBER 48

LOUIS LANDRAM, Publisher.

ONE DOLLAR A YEAR

LANCASTER, KY., THURSDAY AFTERNOON MARCH 1, 1900.

Lancaster and Vicinity.

To Our Subscribers.

We will take it as a personal favor if you will make prompt report to this office if you fail to receive your copy of THE RECORD each issue. You pay us for it, and we pay a pretty stiff price for delivering it, so it is justice that some one be called to books if you do not get your paper. Please report any failure, and probably by our endeavors, with the assistance of Uncle Sam, we can have the wrong righted. If you fail to get the paper, make a note of the issue missed, and send to us.

Camille tonight.

See W. J. Romans' fine line of harness before you buy.

Our stock of Venetian Cloth is elegant. Call and examine. J. Joseph.

Handsomest line of Laces ever on display in Central Kentucky at J. Joseph's.

Miss Dove Harris requests THE RECORD to say that the report that she was to open a millinery store is incorrect.

Camille To-Night.

An opportunity to see one of the highest-class plays at the Opera House tonight. Camille will be presented.

We have placed on tables 200 pairs ladies button shoes that sold from $1.50 to $4.00, all small sizes, that we will sell from 75¢ to $1.50. Come and get a bargain. Logan & Robinson.

Mules to Work.

I have a lot of good, strong young mules that I will let out to be worked until August 1st. Apply to R. W. Lee, on the Gran. Cecil farm, on Salt river, Boyle county. marl-in.

Night in Chinatown.

The weather was so cold that only a few people went to the Opera House to see the above named performance. The company has some clever people, and when the performance is given as it should be, and not cut, it must be first-class. As it was, it did not come up to expectations. It must be a pretty hard task for an actor to do his best before empty seats.

Old Si Plunkard Monday night.

New stock of fancy tissue papers for decoration at Thompson's.

T. Currey will pay highest price in cash or produce for eggs.

The Proctor Knott cigar leads 'em all in easy drawing and fragrant smoke.

We have some lovely and handsome presents, or premiums, that we give our customers. Call and investigate. J. Joseph.

Our line of plaids is given up to be the handsomest ever seen in Lancaster. Call and see them, and you are sure to be pleased. J. Joseph.

You will see the largest and most complete line of all kinds of buggies, surreys, phaetons and road wagons ever brought to Lancaster.

W. J. ROMANS.

There will be preaching at the Methodist church Sunday at 11 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. Robinson. Subject, "Watchman, what of the night?" Epworth League served at six p. m., lasting one hour. Everybody invited.

Wanted:

Reliable, energetic salesmen to sell Lubricating Oils on Commission with a view to permanent salaried positions as soon as ability is proven. REFERENCES. THE EUCLID OIL CO., Cleveland, Ohio.

The next attraction at the Garrard Opera House will be the well known rural farce comedy Si Plunkard, as presented by J. C. Lewis, supported by his Big Comedy Company in his new version of the well known laughing success, Si Plunkard. This company is noted for carrying the finest orchestra of any company on the road. Monday March 5. Prices 25, 35 and 50c.

Stock Paper Changes Hands.

Mr. Dasha Breckinridge has purchased the American Stock Farm, the leading stock paper published in the South, and will have full control of same. Mr. Breckinridge took charge of the Lexington Herald, when that paper had been allowed to run down considerably, and has made it one of the best dailies in Kentucky. He is a man well-versed on stock matters and his success with the Stock Farm is a foregone conclusion. The Stock Farm is already a visitor to many homes and under the new management will find its way to many more welcome firesides. All stock men should take a good paper devoted exclusively to such matters, and we know of none better than the above named journal.

Proctor Knott cigars are best.

Best disc Harrow on the market, lowest in price. J. R. Haselden.

For Sale.

Corn, oats and salt. H. B. NORTHCOTT.

Ladies, see our pretty plain and plaid taffeta silks. They are sure to delight you. J. Joseph.

Strayed or Stolen.

Red cow, three-fourths Jersey, dehorned. Dr. J. M. ACTON.

See our Ladies Shoes that we are closing out at less than manufacturers cost. LOGAN & ROBINSON.

Friday and Saturday, March 9 and 10 are the days upon which the telephone receipts will be given toward the Cemetery gate. Remember this.

We are well stocked with the prettiest assortment of Ginghams ever shown in Central Kentucky. They are both handsome and stylish.

Strayed or Lost.

Rev. J. C. Massee began a series of sermons on the book of Jude Sunday morning, and will preach upon this subject at each morning service for several Sundays. The usual evening services will be held.

Si Plunkard.

Having been re-written and reconstructed this season presents all new features and novelties, and Mr. J. C. Lewis has surrounded himself with a big company of comedians surpassing all his previous efforts to please his patrons, and will present his new edition of this successful farce comedy Si Plunkard at the Garrard Opera House Monday night, March 5th. Prices 25, 35 and 50c.

General Gordon.

General John B. Gordon, the eminent soldier and statesman, will deliver his new lecture, "The First Days of the Confederacy," at the opera house in Danville the night of March 13th, instead of the 14th, as first announced. A large audience will greet the veteran.

Warehouse Broken Into.

Mr. Jas. R. Henry writes to say that he will give $50 reward for the arrest and conviction of the parties who broke into his distillery warehouse on the night of Feb. 25, and took fifteen gallons of whisky, three 5-gallon kegs, 1 quart copper cup and copper funnel. The thieves broke two locks to gain admission.

Senator Farris Here.

Senator George T. Farris came home and spent Saturday and Sunday with his family. He looks none the worse since his chase about Frankfort with the malitia and says he is still in the best of spirits and feels none the worse for wear.

He tells THE RECORD that he thinks the legislature will sit out the sixty days' limit, but he believes that an extra session will be necessary to attend to important matters that were not reached this time. This he thinks will be done, no matter who is declared governor, as it will be absolutely necessary.

During the present term, Senator Farris introduced a bill to compel railroads to fence their lines, a bill to amend the constitution so as to return to the old-fashioned way of voting, and to prohibit corporations from contributing to campaign funds.

By some hook or crook, another member got through a bill on the same order. Mr. Farris has been a leader in his party conference, and during all the recent troubles has plead for his party to keep cool, and let the law take its course. He returned to Frankfort Monday night.

Cooper's Monument Fund.

Mrs. Geo. Farris, who was appointed by the state Monuments Society to take charge of the matter in this county, has appointed the following ladies to receive subscriptions and assist in the work: Miss Eliza Lusk, Miss Lizzie Brown, Mrs. T. B. Robinson, Mrs. J. M. Logan, Mrs. T. C. Guiley, Miss May Jenkins, Mrs. W. L. Lawson, Mrs. W. S. Fish. These ladies will receive contributions and see that they are properly credited, and the certificates issued.

Each contributor will be given a handsome certificate, bearing the picture of Wm. Goebel.

Those who fail to see any of these parties, Mrs. Farris has made arrangements with Laura Smith, at Miss Salie Tillets millinery store, to receive the same.

All contributions, no matter how small, will be thankfully received, and a certificate given each contributor.

This movement was gotten up by the ladies of Kentucky, and is making good progress towards giving a handsome contribution toward the monument.

Those contemplating giving anything, should come forward at once, and let Garrard be among the first to report to the state organization.

All This Week.

The Chapman-Warren company has been playing to crowded houses at the Garrard all this week, and the sale for seats for tonight's performance, Camille, is the largest ever made at the house.

The Chapman-Warren people are far superior to any company yet in this city, and their repertoire consists of higher-class plays.

The shows are clean, and prettily staged.

The actors are first-class, and the specialties up to the average.

The patrons are delighted with the performances, which fact is evidenced by the large attendance.

Miss Blanche Warren, while quite young, is among the few really talented actresses seen in the smaller towns, and her work is applauded frequently at each performance.

She is possessed with an ease and grace that make her a great favorite early in the play, and which is kept up throughout each performance.

Misses Glen, Rice and Hart are clever in their work and frequently given applause.

Messrs. Will Chapman, T. S. Shephard, E. J. Lee, Earl Adams and the rest of the company are exceedingly clever people, and display much talent and energy in their work.

A matinee will be given Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, which is especially for ladies and children.

With his nickel the purchase begins.

He first bought a dozen clothes pins,

With the change he bought wax,

A candle and tax

And candy for each of the twins.

No smoke better than the Proctor Knott cigar.

See the rub band next Monday.

Old Si Plunkard is a member.

Ask for the Proctor Knott cigar.

It's the best smoke you can get.

200 pairs ladies shoes at less than cost, sizes 1 to 4s. Logan & Robinson.

New stock of cut glass and sterling silver for bridal presents.

J. C. Thompson.

THURSDAY, MARCH 1, 1900

The big reward offered by the legislature for the apprehension and conviction of those connected with the murder of Mr. Goebel will, very properly, be placed in the hands of a committee for such expenditure as the committee sees proper. This is a wise move. If it were simply left open to be given to anyone proving the guilt of a party, it would work great harm, as with plenty of money to use, it would be no trouble to pick out some man or men and hire enough witnesses to swear them to the scaffold, guilty or not guilty. It has been often proven that money can buy testimony just as easily as anything else. Its awful to believe, but there are many men who will go upon the witness stand and swear the blackest of lies for a few paltry dollars.

The Louisville Times last week had a column headed "The Sick List." Now this is trespassing upon the rights and privileges of "we" country editors, and if Managing Editor Brown permits it again, we will move for a court martial. Only the rural roosters are entitled to keep a sick list, and the city papers will have to content themselves with prize fights and politics. If the country editors permit this offense to pass un-noticed, the city folks will next be wanting to receive potatoes, pumpkins, etc., as pay for subscription. Desist, Bro. Brown, desist.

During all the recent turmoil in Kentucky, one of the few who had sense enough to keep his head closed was the Hon. John S. Rhea, now so ably representing the second district in Congress. Being out of the state, of course he could not know the true situation, so he wisely refrained from blowing off his mouth, like some others who knew absolutely nothing of the true state of case. Mr. Rhea is making a fine record in congress, and the people of his native state are proud of him.

Mr. Jno. H. Westover, the gentlemanly and capable editor of the Wilkes-Barre Courier, is meeting with much encouragement from the people of his district to become a candidate for congress. Mr. Westover is a man of brains, and would make a model representative. The sooner the people shew aside the professional politician and elect such men as Mr. Westover, the sooner the country will prosper, and not be run by a set of men whose only efforts are to be re-elected.

The Cynthiana Democrat says: "The best course, it seems to us, for a country newspaper to pursue is: divide the statements of a democratic daily by two; divide the statements of a republican daily by two; add up the results and divide by two; wait a week to get the truth of the matter; then go on and express your true sentiments regardless of bluffers, and, if anybody wants to stop his paper, let him stop and be d---d."

The daily papers print under horse-bill headlines what the detectives are doing (?) each day toward capturing Goebel's assassin. In the first place, the detectives would never let out any clew they may have, and secondly, any newspaper man with a thumbble of sense would not dare fluster a capture by publishing the clews. These stories are printed to sell papers, and has the desired effect.

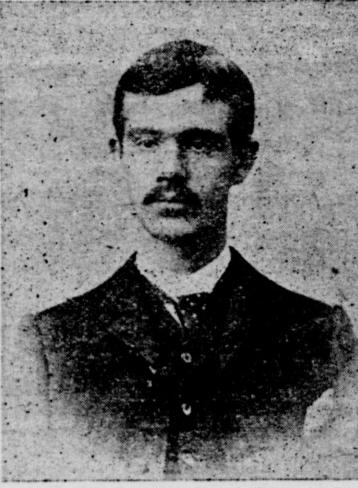

The papers tell of a rousing reception given Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge at Toronto, where he made an address,

The Best Salve in the World is Banner Salve. It is made from a prescription by a world wide known skin specialist; and is positively the most healing salve for piles, burns, scalds, ulcers, running sores and all skin diseases. C.C. & J.E. Stormes. Im

WILLIAM O. OWSEY.

A Noble Young Man Passes to the Great Beyond—A Sketch of His Life.

Scarcely had our last issue, noting his illness, been printed ere the faint spark of life had left the body of William O. Owsey. His death was a great shock to the community, as everyone had the kindest feeling for him, and those who knew him were his friends. In order that many relatives from a distance might be present at his funeral, it was not held until Sunday, at one o'clock, in the Christian church. Notwithstanding the fact that the weather was bitter cold, and a blizzard sweeping at the time, the church was crowded. Elder Gowen's remarks were so timely and appropriate that we reproduce them in full. Several songs were sung by a choir composed of Mrs. Juliet Rogers, Mrs. Burnside, Messrs. Hemphill and Ward. The remains were then placed in the Cemetery vault. Elder Gowen said:

"W. O. Owsey was born March 11, 1866, and died Feb. 23, 1900. Had he lived until the 11th of next month he would have been thirty-four years of age. He confessed Christ during brother Will Gibson's pastorate here, by a prompted meeting held by the greatest of our evangelists at that time, Dr. Whitaker. He was the son of an in-law of President R. L. Hayes. These two preachers have long since gone home to God, and now they are followed into the unseen by the youth who was led to Christ by their ministry more than two decades ago. These intervening years of Will's life have not been what they should have been (and whose have been?) but they had no severer critic than himself. One of the best is said of Will Owsey, and that is, he was a man so devout of hypocrisy. He was as transparent as a sea of glass. He was abrupt, frank and candid. While he carried his heart of friendship upon his sleeve, he carried his faults there also. Though neglectful of his Christian duties and reckless in conduct at times, a warm heart beat beneath his breast and he always had profound respect and reverence for sacred things and good people. He was always devoted to his mother, deferential and respectful and almost shrank at the ardor of his love. I was with him almost every day for two weeks, but at no visit did he fail to speak tenderly of her and how he hated to die only on her account. Every day and night he told his mother how much he loved her. No boy who loves his mother thus can have a bad heart. Wild, reckless wayward he may be, but the homecoming self-condemning spirit he is bound to have. This is exactly true of my friend and brother.

His last weeks and months had been saturated with prayer. I have never seen greater self-recommuniation, penitence or contrition in my life. He humbled himself into the very dust. He would never listen for a moment to one plea or word of apology or anything in extenuation of his guilt, from him. He said that though he was a boy when he accepted Christ, that he would not take a million worlds like this for the joy of the remembrance that that obedience brought into his soul now. There had never been a day in his life that he had not believed in and justified Christ, and condemned himself, and that he is bound to be the author of all his sorrows.

ual famine that he "began to be in want, and his wants made him think of home. "He came to himself and the father of him. "He was a "great way off and had compassion" on him and "ran and fell on his neck and kissed him," and there was no second best for that poor boy that was "lost and found," that was "dead and now alive again." I said, the father did not see the rags on his back only the dear son in his heart—the image marred by sin, but the father freely forgave and restored him to the joys of salvation." And when I had thus read and spoken and prayed, Will quoted a part of the first stanza of that sweet old hymn,

"Just as I am, without one plea, But that my God, I come, I come! O Lamb of God, I come, I come!" Just as I am and waiting not To see what God's going to do, To whom soever dark blot, To whom soever bad man, O Lamb of God, I come, I come!

Just as I am—then will receive, With welcome pardon, cleanse, relieve, Because I trust, I come, I come!

And he did find joy in believing, and from that moment until the end, it was one joyous, triumphant, unconquered, undoubting joy of salvation.

He then begged that I might come and administer to him the Lord's supper if he should live until Sunday. He rejoiced to see that day and was glad. There, with him, I broke the loaf and partook of the cup believing that I would never partake of it again with him this side of the kingdom above.

He was only anxious for one more partake of the supper before he would die. He was conscious of the very last, and sought my counsel about which should invite to administer it if I should by any chance be called away. But poor, tired soul, he did not live on earth to see this day and partake of the emblems of Christ's dying love, but, Oh, how much better to sit at the feet of His Master in the cloudless land and pour out to him his grateful heart for his unspeakable grace. He was conscious to the very last, and his last words were words of prayer and praise. With his poor parched lips he tried to repeat the psalm that brought him much comfort in his last days, "Let not your heart be troubled, ye believe in God believe also in me. In my Father's house are many mansions. If it were not so I would have told you; I go to prepare a place for you," and with these he "fell asleep."

And what is the import of this story, the lesson of this sketch? That sincere people may drift away from their Father's house and forget their vows to Christ? God forbid! Those whose lips could speak them would rebuke a thousand times such a suggestion as that. Every soul is honest in the presence of the judgment, and he spoke to me and others about his regrets and how futile, how absolutely valueless are the pleasures, worldly ways and ambitions when one is called upon to "walk through the valley of the shadow." He spoke of two of his special friends with whom he wanted to talk, and talk that he might warn them rather than that they should be encouraged to continue in sin. The lesson is of Christ's unspeakable love which should "constrain" us to surrender sin and give him our life—the strength, our health, our vigor and the wealth and riches of our manhood. He "who is a very present help in time of trouble" deserves all—the very best we can give him.

Then, on the other hand, who begrudges the sweet peace and calm that comes at the closing of his life? Ah, where is the heart so hard that would pluck from that fond mother the hope that is worth to her more than all the heaped up jewels of the world besides?

I shall always believe that it was a special Providence that brought me from a meeting in a distant state just at the time he was praying and longing for my return. And I shall always be thankful that I could minister to him and be of some comfort and service to him, while his feet were glibly downward into the chilly waters. I am more than ever convinced that to the hands of his Father and mine—he who knows the secrets of all hearts, who can gauge the weight of every burden, and measure the strength of every temptation to which poor mortals are subject, and "Who doeth all things well."

There's a wideness in God's mercy Like the wideness of the sea; There's a kindness in his justice, Which is more than宽恕.

There's a welcome for the sinner And more graces for the good; There is mercy with the Savior; There is healing in his blood.

For the love of God is broad as the ocean, and deep as the mind; And most wonderful kind.

If our love were but more simple, We could talk him into his word, And our love would be all sound, In the sweet ss of the Lord.

Question Answered.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers' and grandmothers' never thought of using anything else for indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis, Nervous Prostration or Heart failure, etc.

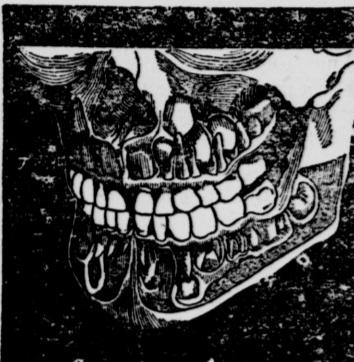

They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches.

You only need a few doses of Greens' August Flower, in liquid form to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by C. C. & J. E. Stormes.

Brave Men Fall.

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says:

"Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at R. E. McRoberts, Drug Store. Every bottle guaranteed. 1m

Here is a trick which an exchange reports. Look out for the man who plays it. He claims to be an agent for a large clothing house in Chicago and carries some few samples of goods for men's suits, which he claims to sell for $10 and are worth $40. He takes a man's measure who pays $2 down as an evidence of good faith. He represents that the goods are to be delivered in a week when the remainder is to be paid. The smart agent pockets the forfeit and that is the lot of either the agent, $2 or suit of clothes.

The Louisville Home Journal says mule dealers and breeders are feeling quite comfortable over the trade situation in this class of stock. The depression which has existed for some time in prices of this stock, has caused many breeders to go out of the business, and many dealers to quit business. Consequently the supply of mules in the United States is probably lower than for many years. The demand by England for mules for use in the South African war has been quite heavy and stimulated prices considerably. This caused a desire among dealers to stock up again, which, added to the demand and the resulting improved prices, caused holders to stiffen up still more on their holdings. Press dispatches state that English agents bought last week in St. Louis and Kansas City 1,500 mules. It is said that in many sections the price of small mules has advanced 25 or 30 per cent.

It is very hard to stand idly and see our dear ones suffer while awaiting the arrival of a doctor. An Albany (N. Y.) dairyman called at a drug store there for a doctor to come and see his child, then very sick with croup. Not finding the doctor in he left word for him to come at once on his return. He also bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough remedy, which he hoped would give some relief until the doctor should arrive. In a few hours he returned, saying the doctor need not come, as the child was much better. The druggist, Mr. Otto Scholz, says the family has since recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to their neighbors and friends until he has a constant demand for it from that part of the country. For sale by R. E. McRoberts, Druggist.

WALLACETON.
(Delayed Letter)

Mrs. Mollie Byrd, who has been quite sick for several weeks, is able to be up again.

Bolan Bros. did not fire up their mill last Saturday on account of a surplus of snow and ice, and a lack of fuel.

E. B. Wallace will soon move his saw-mill to a point about two miles southeast of Wallaceton, where he has about two months' work, after which he will move to a very large boundary of excellent timber he has bought near Mallory Springs, in Madison county.

John H. Mitchell has his new house almost completed and will soon move to it. We have not yet heard who is to be his housekeeper and are inclined to the belief that he has struck on this plan to aid him in securing a partner.

Notwithstanding the intensely cold and disagreeable weather last Saturday, the sale of the property of Mr. John Mitchell, dec'd., was attended by a fair crowd and horses, hogs, and cows brought fair prices. One 2-year-old mule sold for $1.

More papers are now coming to Wallaceton each week as is any time since the establishing of a Post Office here. Quite a number of our citizens are taking from three to a half dozen weeklies, and several are also taking a daily.

Mr. Henry Bodkins, who recently moved into our community, has secured the job of carrying the mail between here and Paint Lick, beginning the first of July next. Mr. A. J. Wilson, our present carrier, also put in a bid but was under-bidden. Mr. Wilson has served with an admirable promptness, regardless of unfavorable weather, and his many friends are sorry he lost his job, but on the other hand Mr. Bodkins, too, has had experience in serving Uncle Sam, having been mail carrier heretofore for eight years.

A SMALL SPOT MAY BE CANCER.

MOST VIOLENT CASES HAVE

APPEARED AT FIRST AS

MERE PIMPLES.

The greatest care should be given to any little sore, pimple or scratch which has no disposition to heal under ordinary treatment. No one can know how these will develop into Cancer of the worst type. So many people die from Cancer because they do not know just what the disease is; and are forced to submit to a cruel and dangerous operation—the only treatment which the disease can promptly return, however, and is even more violent and destructive than before. Cancer is a deadly poison in the blood, and an operation, plaster, or other external treatment can have no effect whatever upon it. The cure must come from within—the last vestige of poison must be eradicated.

Mr. Wm. Wallace of Walshon, S. D., says: "A little blotch about the size of a pea came under my eye, gradually growing larger, from which shooting pains at intervals ran in various directions. I became greatly alarmed and consulted a good doctor, who pronounced it Cancer, and advised that it be cut out, but this I could not consent to. I read in my local paper of a cure effected by S. S. S., and decided to try it. It acted like a charm, the first irritation being gone in a few days, and very freely. This gradually grew less and then discontinued altogether, leaving a small scar which soon dropped off, and now only a healthy little scar remains where what threatened to destroy my life once held full sway." Positively the only cure for Cancer is Swift's Specific.

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD

because it is the only remedy which can go deep enough to reach the root of the disease and force it out of the system permanently. A surgical operation does not reach the blood, nor does it remove the disease—because the blood can not be away. Insist upon S. S. S.; nothing can take its place.

S. S. S. cures also any case of Scrofula, Eczema, Rheumatism, Contagious Blood-Poison, Ulcers, Sores, or any other form of blood disease. Valuable books on Cancer and Blood Diseases will be mailed free to any address by S. S. S. Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

the weather, it remains so bad they can't do any farm work.

Mrs. Joe Ray and Miss Lula Simpson, of Buckeye, were the guests of the latter's grand-mother, Mrs. Geo. Anderson, one day last week....Mrs. Alice Austin, of near Lancaster, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Sallie Evans—while there her nine months' old baby took pneumonia and died Friday evening. We extend our sympathy to the grief stricken parents.....While out of the room last Friday the little child of Mr. and Mrs. John Duncan caught fire and burned to death. The mother heard the screams of the child and went to its assistance, but it was burned so bad it lived only a few hours. Both of these little children were the grand children of Mr. and Mrs. Lemon Evans. They were buried at the old home place, the bereaved parents have the sympathy of the community for the loss of their little ones but their loss is the little one's gain....Mrs. Mary Montgomery, of Mt. Hebron attended the burial of her sisters children last week and also visited her mother, Mrs. Sallie Evans.

Mrs. Calvin Zimmerman, Melsburg, Pa., says, "As a speedy cure for coughs, colic, croup and sore throat One Minute Cough Cure is unequalled. It is pleasant for children to take. I heartily recommend it to mothers." It is the only harmless remedy that produces immediate results. It cures bronchitis, pneumonia, grippe and throat and lung diseases. It will prevent consumption.
